Findings against the standard and requirements

Provide an evaluative summary about the effectiveness of the partnerships between the AEI and their practice learning partners, service users, students and any other stakeholders

Documentary evidence and discussions during the approval process confirm the AEI works in partnership with their PLPs, service users, students and other stakeholders. Senior practice staff tell us they have regular meetings with the programme team and senior staff at UoB and joint decisions are made at a strategic and operational level to support the pre-registration nursing programme and ensure the quality of the practice learning environments.

AEIs within the Greater Manchester and Lancashire regions share educational audits of practice learning environments using a single process facilitated through the online practice assessment record and evaluation (PARE) tool. Practice educators say this is managed and monitored by UoB staff in partnership with practice educators through the Greater Manchester (GM) consortium of approved education institutions (AEIs) and PLPs.

UoB has a dedicated service user lead and there are plans to further increase the number of service user volunteers in all fields of nursing practice. Documentary evidence and discussions at the approval visit demonstrate strategic and operational commitment to involving service users in all aspects of the proposed programme. We met service users from a range of diverse backgrounds with different experiences of NHS services across the fields of nursing practice. They confirm their preparation for and involvement in development of the new programme, student recruitment and selection, the 'Patient as coach' initiative and assessing students' practical skills. Students confirm their experiences of service user and carer involvement in the programme.

Students tell us they're involved in the development of the proposed programme and about their opportunities to provide feedback about any issues through the student-staff liaison committee. They provide examples of programme changes that are in response to student feedback. Students say they're aware of the process for escalating concerns either during practice learning experiences or in the university.

Documentary analysis and discussions at the modification visit confirm PLPs associated with UoB are involved in programme development. They tell us they understand their responsibilities for the provision of practice learning appropriate experiences and supporting students.

UoB, their PLPs, and other AEIs in the Greater Manchester region have an agreement to use an adapted version of the PLPAD. To support implementing the PLPAD there's a shared Greater Manchester and Lancashire approach to preparing practice supervisors, practice assessors and academic assessors. The programme team and PLPs confirm practice supervisor and practice assessor preparation is progressing and there are proportionate plans in place to operationalise these roles in time for the proposed start date of the programme. This is confirmed by students. Academic staff confirm they're aware of UoB's plans and arrangements to prepare them for their academic assessor role.

UoB, in partnership with PLPs, ensure oversight for practice supervision and assessment is in place and practice learning adheres to the SSSA (NMC, 2018).

Practice educators, practice supervisors and assessors tell us students have extensive opportunities for inter-professional learning within acute and community practice learning environments.

Evidence of recognition of prior learning processes, mapped against programme outcomes at all levels and against academic levels of the programme up to a maximum of 50 percent of the programme and comply with Article 31(3) of Directive 2005/36/EC (R1.5)

Met

R1.5 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. Programme documentation and evidence at the approval visit confirm recognition of prior learning (RPL) arrangements for up to 50 percent of the programme are in place. RPL is assessed via a mapping document which applicants complete and submit against a portfolio of evidence. RPL applications are reviewed internally and by an external examiner prior to ratification at a board of examiners.

Evidence that for NMC registered nurses recognition of prior learning is capable of being mapped to the Standards of proficiency for registered nurses and programme outcomes (R1.6)

Met

R1.6 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. Documentation shows RPL of theoretical modules requires applicants to demonstrate and provide evidence of how they meet programme learning outcomes and how they can apply these to the mental health field of practice. The external examiner reviews applications for RPL.

Numeracy, literacy, digital and technological literacy mapped against proficiency standards and programme outcomes. Provide evidence that the programme meets NMC requirements, mapping how the indicative content meets the proficiencies and programme outcomes.

Met

R1.7 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. Programme documentation confirms that each student's capability to develop numeracy skills and literacy are assessed as part of the admission process. Group and individual interviews assess applicants' ability to communicate effectively. At the start of the programme students have a numeracy and literacy assessment. Where needed, students are provided with a learning plan with links and resources to the learning, excellence, and achievement pathway (LEAP) which is an online resource designed to support student learning. Students have access to online skills resources and the virtual learning environment (VLE) 'Moodle' which helps them develop their skills.

The programme team say clinical simulation suites provide access to technology enhanced learning resources. In addition, the programme team tell us that during practice learning students use digital resources to record e-observations and electronic stations are used to request referrals, tests and to check results.

The PLPAD requires students to demonstrate skills development in numeracy, literacy, digital and technological literacy. Medicines management is assessed in the PLPAD which incorporates a numeracy assessment.

Personal tutors provide student support and signpost students to university student services for assistance with numeracy and literacy skills. This is confirmed by students. The university uses a selection of electronic teaching and learning resources including Elsevier clinical skills, e-learning library resources, and an online resource SN@P to practise medicines calculations. Flipped classroom learning packages are included in all modules. Students confirm there's access to a wide range of learning resources.

R2.4 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. The programme is designed to support students and provide practice learning experiences across all four fields of nursing practice. The design of the programme has generic modules shared by students from differing fields of nursing practice with opportunities for shared learning with students from the adult field of nursing practice. Mental health field specific content is reflected in module indicative content which is in the module descriptors and is delivered in lectures, workshops and tutorial groups. The programme is designed to support and align with practice learning and appropriate sequencing of content, programme, module aims and outcomes.

PLPs and employers demonstrate strong commitment to facilitate students' practice learning across the four fields of nursing within acute and community care settings. PLPs tell us there are collaborative arrangements to facilitative spoke learning experience opportunities.

Documentary evidence demonstrates mapping is undertaken and shows specific mental health field content related to law, safeguarding, consent, pharmacology and medicine administration and optimisation. This is included in designated modules and in the indicative content of modules descriptors. This content is assessed in practice via the PLPAD where, for example, specific medicines management assessment is included. All students are assessed on safeguarding, law and consent in practice.

The programme structure demonstrates an equal balance of theory and practice learning. This is detailed in the designated hours in the module descriptors and practice learning allocations. A range of learning and teaching strategies are detailed in the programme specification, programme handbook and module descriptors with theory / practice balance detailed at each part of the programme and at end point.

Standard 3. Practice learning

Approved education institutions, together with practice learning partners, must:

R3.1 provide practice learning opportunities that allow students to develop and meet the Standards of proficiency for registered nurses to deliver safe and effective care to a diverse range of people, across the four fields of nursing practice: adult, mental health, learning disabilities and children's nursing

R3.2 ensure that students experience the variety of practice expected of registered nurses to meet the holistic needs of people of all ages

R3.3 provide practice learning opportunities that allow students to meet the communication and relationship management skills and nursing procedures, as set out in Standards of proficiency for registered nurses, within their selected fields of nursing practice: adult, mental health, learning disabilities and children's nursing

R3.4 ensure technology enhanced and simulation-based learning opportunities are used effectively and proportionately to support learning and assessment and pre-registration nursing programmes leading to registration in the adult field of practice comply with Article 31(5) of Directive 2005/36/EC (included in Annexe 1 of programme standards document)

R3.5 take account of students' individual needs and personal circumstances when allocating their practice learning including making reasonable adjustments for students with disabilities

R3.6 ensure students experience the range of hours expected of registered nurses, and R3.7 ensure that students are supernumerary.

Standards framework for nursing and midwifery education specifically:

R1.1, R1.3, R1.5; R2.9, R2.11; R3.3, R3.5, R 3.7, R3.16; R5.1, R5.7, R5.10, R5.12

Standards for student supervision and assessment, specifically: R1.1 – R1.11

Provide an evaluative summary from your documentary analysis and evidence AND discussion at the approval visit to demonstrate if assurance is provided that the QA approval criteria below is met or not met

Evidence that the practice learning opportunities allow students to develop and meet the Standards of proficiency for registered nurses to deliver safe and effective care, to a diverse range of people, across the four fields of nursing practice: adult, mental health, learning disabilities and children's nursing (R3.1)

Met

R3.1 is met. Programme documentation indicates students are provided with appropriate practice learning opportunities to develop and meet the Standards of proficiency for registered nurses enabling them to deliver safe and effective care to a diverse range of people across the four fields of nursing practice. This is evident in the PLPAD adopted by the Greater Manchester and Lancashire region. Senior nurses tell us there's sufficient capacity for practice learning experiences within their organisations and the programme team continue to identify further practice learning environments. Students say they're supported during practice learning and there are sufficient opportunities for them to gain experience in all fields of nursing practice.

There is evidence of how the programme will ensure students experience the variety of practice learning experiences to meet the holistic needs of people in all ages. There are appropriate processes for assessing, monitoring and evaluating these practice experiences (R3.2)

Met

R3.2 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. Programme documentation and discussions at the modification visit demonstrate students experience a variety of practice learning experiences. Employer representatives at the modification visit confirm signing commitment statements and will ensure students will access the necessary range of practice learning experiences across the four fields of practice.

Practice learning experiences are monitored and reviewed by UoB in partnership with employers. UoB and PLPs confirm practice learning experiences prepare students to meet the holistic needs of people of all ages.

The online PARE system shared by UoB and PLPs within the GM consortium provides a single point for accessing, monitoring and evaluating students' practice learning experiences. Students confirm they have opportunities to provide feedback through the PARE system. Practice educators, practice assessors and practice supervisors tell us they access student evaluations through PARE and feedback can contribute to enhancing practice learning environment.

Evidence that the practice learning opportunities allow students to meet the communication and relationship management skills and nursing procedures, as set out in the Standards of proficiency for registered nurses, within their selected fields of nursing practice: adult, mental health, learning disabilities

and children's nursing (R3.3)

Met

R3.3 is met. The programme team say during practice learning experiences students will have opportunities to address communication and relationship management skills in the mental health field of nursing practice. Learning outcomes and nursing procedures in the PLPAD demonstrate students need to demonstrate competence in these areas and requires them to complete and reflect upon episodes of care. These further contribute to developing these specific skills and proficiencies. Practice supervisors and practice assessors confirm they understand the requirements for students to develop these skills.

All communication and relationship management skills and nursing procedures are summatively assessed at each progression point. The practice learning environment audit identifies learning opportunities and indicates where students can have opportunities to develop communication and relationship management skills and nursing procedures.

Evidence to ensure technology enhanced and simulation-based learning opportunities are used effectively and proportionately to support learning and assessment and pre-registration nursing programmes leading to registration in the adult field of practice comply with Article 31(5) of Directive 2005/36/EC (R3.4)

Met

R3.4 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. Learning is facilitated using a problem-based learning approach and incorporates blended learning and flipped classroom. The blended learning involves providing the student with learning resources to use at any time outside of the classroom, for example, narrated PowerPoint slides, podcasts, online books, articles, short tests and quizzes.

A range of simulated and enhanced technology teaching strategies are included throughout the programme. These strategies are reflected in module specifications. Students have access to virtual learning resources through the VLE Moodle. The LEAP online tool can enhance learning and assessments. Students say the quality and availability of teaching and learning resources meet their learning needs. The programme team and service users and carers tell us there are plans to develop shared simulation-based teaching and learning scenarios to further enhance student learning.

There are processes in place to take account of students' individual needs and personal circumstances when allocating their practice learning including making reasonable adjustments for disabilities (R3.5)

Met

R3.5 is met. Unchanged since original approval on 2 September 2019. The programme team confirm comprehensive processes are in place to take account of students' individual needs and personal circumstances when allocating their practice learning including making reasonable adjustments for disabilities. Students and practice learning staff confirm UoB is committed to actively supporting students with additional needs in both the university and practice learning environment.

PLPs provide evidence of scheduled training updates and tell us they'll maintain a register of practice supervisors and practice assessors.

There is a senior academic staff member at UoB with responsibility for monitoring the quality of practice learning. Documentary evidence shows academic staff are provided with information regarding the role of academic assessor and how they can ensure they meet the requirements of the academic assessor role.

The GM partnership local level agreement states partnership arrangements relating to student support, supervision, learning and assessment during practice learning. Partnership agreements outline processes of monitoring and quality assurance processes for practice learning.
